PITSS.CON Customer Success for Oracle FORMS

Agrarmarkt Austria optimises the entire lifecycle management of its Forms application with PITSS.CON

"We already migrated successfully from 6i cs to 9i Web Forms with PITSS.CON a while ago. There was no alternative to PITSS.CON on the market - either from other tool manufacturers or from service providers. To manage our Forms application more efficiently, we are now once again relying on PITSS.CON's exceptional performance bandwidth."

Walter Plieseis, Head of Application Development, Agrarmarkt Austria

Project

Migration from Forms 6i cs to 9i Web Forms with PITSS.CON, ongoing updating and maintenance with PITSS.CON

Initial position

Agrarmarkt Austria uses a major Oracle Forms application. As client-server technology became obsolete, migration to Web Forms was essential for ensuring connectivity for Forms users via the extranet. Agrarmarkt Austria is hoping that this move will improve the functionality of its Forms application. In this context, there are other requirements on the application's updating and maintenance. Since the company has its own software development department, it is interested in a tool-assisted solution. This means that the expertise remains in-house.

Project data

Version of FORMS: 6i cs
Number of FORMS: 1200
Number of FORMS users: 150
Operating system: HP-UX
Database: Oracle 10g

Challenge

Agrarmarkt Austria wants to extend the lifecycle management of its Forms application, which has already successfully been migrated with PITSS.CON, with updating and maintenance functions. The focus of this move will include features such as version control, impact analysis and general adaptations of the application. What's required is a tool that can handle these and any future requirements in terms of the administration of the Forms application version 9i with 750 Forms and 150 Forms users and which offers a cost-effective, reliable solution.

Objective

Tool-assisted extension for maintaining and updating the Web Forms application

Solution

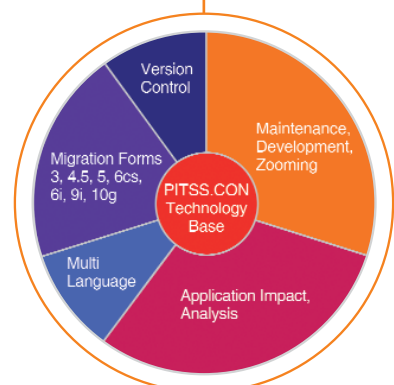

PITSS.CON has already proven its outstanding efficiency with the migration to Web Forms 9i. Agrarmarkt Austria's level of customer satisfaction is extremely high. This time, expertise from PITSS is also being used for the functional extension that will include updating and maintenance of the Forms application. In the selection process, PITSS.CON clinched the deal with its bandwidth of functions, exceptional quality and excellent price. Agrarmarkt Austria will now primarily profit from the ongoing analysis options (application impact), code management (version control) and the quality of its Forms application thanks to the ongoing deployment of PITSS.CON.
